President To Speak Tonight At Louisville

Attack On "Big Business" Is Scheduled To Be Made In Speech

By ROBERT G. NIXON
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

EN ROUTE WITH PRESIDENT TRUMAN, Sept. 30.—President Truman carried his campaign for re-election into southern Illinois and Kentucky today with the promise that he will rip into big business monopolies tonight in another major address at Louisville, Ky.

The chief executive spent the first half of another strenuous day of campaigning by motoring 140 miles through the coal mine district of southern Illinois before crossing into Kentucky from Evansville, Ind., early in the afternoon.

At least a dozen talks were on today's schedule, which will be climaxed by the promised attack on big business, the National Association of Manufacturers and monopolies in Louisville, at nine p. m. (CST) tonight.

Tours Mining Area

The President left his special train at Mount Vernon, Ill., at 7:45 a. m. and motored through the coal mining area of southern Illinois, reboarding his train at 11:15 a. m.

He stopped in Evansville, Ill., at 12:25 p. m. for 45 minutes. Stops in Kentucky were scheduled for Henderson at 1:35 p. m., Owensboro at 2:25 p. m. and Irvington at 4:10 p. m. He is scheduled to arrive in Louisville at 5:40 p. m.

The President has read 110 speeches in the last two weeks.

The President's voice, which was weak from a touch of laryngitis during the early part of his 14 days of campaigning to date, has become stronger as his tour progressed. Through Oklahoma and Missouri yesterday afternoon and last night he shouted his vilifications of the Republican 80th Congress and the Republican record.

The crowds have been growing in size as the President discussed high prices and charged that big business and Wall street are the guiding hand of the Republican party which he repeatedly has declared is concerned only with protecting "selfish interests against the interests of the people."

Must have been something in the air last night that was hard on headlights. Three cars, almost in succession, coming south on Highland avenue, had only one headlight burning, all on the left.

Traffic was snarled on Moravia St., Wednesday afternoon around 4:30 o'clock. A large building was being transported up the street on a trailer and cars could not pass in either direction.

Begin Manufacture Of Low Carbon Steel At United Engineering Plant

Pouring First Heat Of Low Carbon Steel At United Plant

Two men knocked a clay plug from an open hearth furnace Wednesday afternoon at United Engineering and Foundry company plant here.

In an instant a white hot serpent of molten steel hissed its way down a steel chute into a huge ladle. It was the first heat of low carbon steel ever produced in a basic open hearth furnace by the United.

75-Ton Furnace

The change over from an acid open hearth to a basic open hearth has been taking place for the past two weeks. A basic furnace is one based with basic metals—limestone and magnesia. An acid furnace is one based with silica sand and the latter type is the type in use by United for many years.

Recently the company made the decision to produce low carbon steel.

Governor Dewey Will Outline His Foreign Policy

Important Major Address To Be Made Tonight At Salt Lake City

By WILLIAM THEIS
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

EN ROUTE WITH GOVERNOR DEWEY, Sept. 30.—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey put the finishing touches today on a cautiously worded foreign policy address designed to chart a new course in world affairs without compromising America's stand on the Berlin crisis.

The Republican Presidential candidate kept his prepared speech open for revision to cover any last-minute changes in the tense Berlin situation before he speaks in Salt Lake City tonight.

In contact with Dulles

Dewey maintained contact by United Nations teletype with John Foster Dulles, his foreign advisor, who now is in Paris as a delegate to the U. N. General Assembly session.

His address tonight, it was understood, will not "rock the boat" on the showdown with Russia or go far beyond what Dewey already has said concerning the Berlin situation on his 8,000-mile campaign tour.

But the G. O. P. nominee is expected to go into greater detail on his proposal for a United Nations of Europe and for a new China policy.

In a speech before 5,000 persons at Great Falls, Mont., last night, Dewey warned "trigger-happy militarists" not to bank on political disunity in America.

U. N. in Throes of Crisis

The New York governor spoke bluntly of the "dark clouds of international misunderstanding." He said the United Nations is "in the throes of a grave crisis."

Those close to Dewey did not expect the New York governor.

Racket Probers Would Indict 66 In Pittsburgh

(BULLETIN)

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 30.—(INS)—The grand jury investigating rackets in the Pittsburgh area today recommended the indictment of 66 persons in the report on its nine-week probe.

No city or police officials were included on the list, although several policemen, including two inspectors, were criticized in the report for failing to perform their duties.

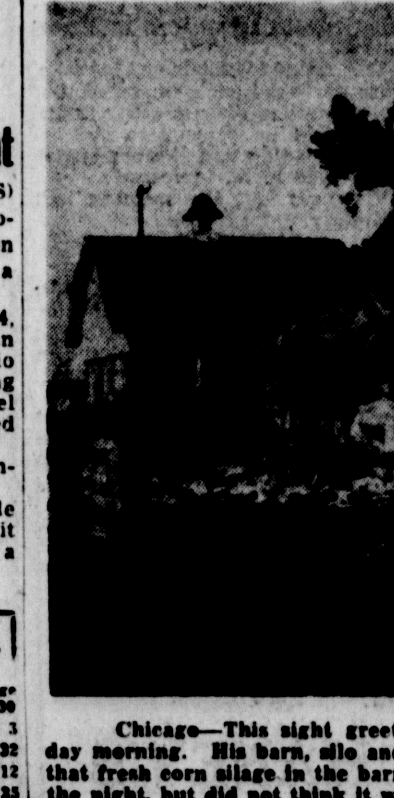

Among the 66 recommended for indictment was the Fort Pitt Hotel, Inc., operators of the downtown hotel of the same name. The hotel is accused of "establishing gambling places."

Butter Price Down

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 30.—(INS)—A new low in the price of butter was in prospect today for Pittsburgh.

Officials of a large grocery chain said that they would reduce their price today from 71 cents a pound to 69 cents, as a result of a drop in the wholesale price.

Illinois Barn Blows Up During Night

Chicago—This night greeted Maurice Regole, owner of a farm near here, when he awoke yesterday morning. His barn, silo and windmill were reduced to shambles during the night. It is believed that fresh corn silage in the barn created a gas which exploded. Regole heard a "slight" noise during the night, but did not think it worthy of investigation.

Some West Pittsburgh Road Restrictions Are Being Removed

Load limit signs at the approaches to West Pittsburgh come down today.

Truck traffic will be rolling normally again by late afternoon.

Shortly before noon today Andrew Braykovich, chairman of the Board of Supervisors for Taylor township said "the sign will be removed today."

Had Industry Shookled

The signs, limiting loads to five tons on roads approaching West Pittsburgh handicapped the five industries. One industry has a ten ton load of important parts that must be shipped today. As long as the load limits were on, this shipment would have remained in the plant unless the order was violated.

The entrance to and egress from West Pittsburgh is in a rather odd state. The industries are located upon the state highway which is reached from the north end of the village by using the underpass, thus avoiding the main street of West Pittsburgh.

The underpass has clearance of only 11 feet three inches and trucks hauling such things as sheet glass or the heavier trucks cannot use it.

Report 'Monty' Will Command Western Forces

MARSHAL MONTGOMERY

LONDON, Sept. 30.—(INS)—Britain's cabinet reportedly confirmed today the nomination of Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery as commander of the western European union's potential force of 10 million men.

The five member nations—Britain, France, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg—have agreed on a common defense plan.

Montgomery would command a peace-time force of two million men which—estimates say—could be raised to 10 million in the event of war.

Given Sentence For Bad Checks

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 30.—(INS)—A 48-year-old mother of three grown children began a five-to-10 year sentence in the Allegheny County workhouse today for writing bad checks.

Mrs. Blanche Carothers, who police said had served two years in the Norristown, Pa., jail on a similar charge, was accused of writing and passing some bad checks in the Pittsburgh district.

She told the court that she first started the practice "to put my daughter and two sons through school." One son is in the army; the other is a navy veteran and the daughter is employed in Chicago.

Police said Mrs. Carothers' record dated back to 1925.

New Supervisor Of Nurses Named

Miss Rachel E. Long, Of Pittsburgh, To Succeed Mrs. Jane Geiger

TAKES UP DUTIES ON OCTOBER 15

Announcement was made today by Roger W. Rowland, chairman of the board of directors of the Jameson Memorial hospital, of the selection of Miss Rachel E. Long as director of the school of nursing at the Jameson Memorial hospital. Miss Long will succeed Mrs. Jane Geiger, who resigned this position, effective October 15.

Mrs. Geiger, who came here a year ago to take over the duties of director of nurses, presented her resignation to the board last week, which was accepted at a meeting this week. After careful consideration the board chose Miss Long to succeed her.

Miss Long comes here from the Presbyterian hospital in Pittsburgh, and is well qualified to fill the position.

Mrs. Geiger plans to go back into psychiatry work, which she left to accept the local position, having come here to organize the school of nursing and place it on a sound footing.

She was tendered a birthday and farewell party by the nurses at the hospital, when she was presented with a lovely gift by her associates here.

Two Fugitives From Mercer Co. Jail, In Custody

SHARON, Pa., Sept. 30.—(INS)—William Taylor, 25, of Sharpsville, one of a trio who escaped the Mercer County Jail Tuesday, gave himself up to Pennsylvania State Police today.

Police said Taylor called them from his home.

The second of the three escapees, Jack Shaffer, 25, of Stoneboro, was captured Wednesday night in a church at Sandy Lake where he was hiding.

Raymond Ziringer, 25, of Pittsburgh was still at large.

Police said most of the jewelry has been recovered. Some of it had been broken up apparently to make it ready for sale to an alleged "fence."

According to police the trio was among 10 men arrested in raid on the upper westside.

Security Council Called To Tackle Explosive Issue

Russia Silent Today On Charges Of Blocking Atomic Control

VISHINSKY ASKS DELAY ON REPLY

By PIERRE J. NUSS
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, Sept. 30.—The United Nations Security Council was called today to meet at 3 p. m. Monday to consider the Berlin dispute.

Warren R. Austin of the United States, who takes over the chairmanship at that time, called the session to discuss western charges that Russia's blockade is a threat to peace.

The call was issued shortly after the U. N. political committee adjourned suddenly when Russia refused an immediate reply to American charges that the Soviets are blocking efforts to establish international atomic energy control.

Charges By Austin

The charges in the political committee had been leveled by Austin himself.

It was learned that Austin, with Canadian Delegate A. G. L. McNaughton, are considering behind the scenes an eventual proposal that the atom deadlock be referred to special consultations of the big five powers with Canada also sitting in.

The Russian delegates in the political committee remained surprisingly silent after Austin finished a lengthy statement in which he declared:

"Fear has replaced hope because the Soviet Union has insisted on placing sovereignty above control."

He referred to Soviet refusal of recommendations by the U. N. atomic energy commission calling for periodic inspections to control use of atomic energy.

Soviet Remains Silent

Committee Chairman Premier Paul-Henri Spaak of Belgium offered Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister every opportunity to talk after the committee discovered a lack of speakers.

It was obvious to all present.

(BULLETIN)

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—(INS)—The three "bandits" who robbed Mrs. Sonja Loew of $50,000 in jewelry in her New York hotel apartment were arrested today in New York by detectives.

Police said most of the jewelry has been recovered. Some of it had been broken up apparently to make it ready for sale to an alleged "fence."

According to police the trio was among 10 men arrested in raid on the upper westside.

Halt Licenses For Television Stations In U.S.

(BULLETIN)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—(INS.) The Federal Communications Commission announced today an indefinite halt in issuing licenses for television stations.
The commission said the "freeze" in granting new television licenses resulted from technical difficulties in transmission.
FCC Chairman Wayne Coy announced that the commission intends to revise its engineering standards to improve television service.
Coy said the freeze order is primarily aimed at tropospheric interference which stations have been experiencing because of their geographic locations.
The FCC chairman said that 303 pending applications for stations are affected by the order.

GOVERNOR DEWEY WILL OUTLINE HIS FOREIGN POLICY

Dewey's special train turned in Idaho today with scheduled stops at Idaho Falls and Pocatello, Ida., and Ogden, Cache Junction and Salt Lake City, Utah.
Salt Lake City was picked for Dewey's foreign policy speech because it would give him the greatest amount of time before putting himself formally on record on all phases of the world situation.

White men explored California for more than 300 years before they discovered the "General Sherman" tree, the world's largest living thing.

not negotiate the underpass. Traffic over the main street has been barred by the supervisors' order.
State Bridge Closed
Leaving West Pittsburgh for southern and eastern points, usually means travelling over the Beaver river bridge to the Wampum road. This was closed to loads of more than five tons recently by order of the State Highway Department.
Unable to use the Beaver river bridge, trucks have been coming up by way of Chewton over a dirt road and then getting to the state highway in West Pittsburgh by means of a township road and an overhead railroad bridge.
This avenue was blocked for entrance into New Castle when the supervisors order was posted.
Do Not Want To Handicap
"We certainly do not want to handicap industry from receiving and shipping merchandise," said Mr. Braykovich. "We have had trouble with heavily loaded sand trucks. Recently, when we were building the approach at the southern end of the village, a sand truck went through and ripped up the fresh top dressing, costing us about $250 to repair it."
"We cannot permit overloaded trucks to use light highways, but we will not restrict legal loads. Since the order was posted we have been lenient in any enforcement of it. However, if the orders handicap industrial loads, then the orders will be revoked."
There are two remedies apparently needed immediately in West Pittsburgh. One is to provide an underpass with a higher clearance and the other is to repair the Beaver river bridge.
Even with the revocation of the five ton load restriction on the highways, truck operations are impeded by being forced to travel a narrow dirt road which will probably be difficult in heavy weather.
When the situation became known several days ago, the Greater New Castle Association investigated and made some suggestions. Following the GNCA's work, the signs came down and truck traffic is rolling almost normally again.

Educators Of State Gather

HARRISBURG, Sept. 30.—Pennsylvania educators convened today at the state capitol for the opening of the two-day annual education congress expected to provide a sounding board for new salary demands.
More than 400 school administrators and supervisors and members of state-wide education groups met to review "recent legislation and educational progress in Pennsylvania."

The Pennsylvania State Education association reported the average salary paid approximately $9,000 school teachers and administrative personnel is $2458 and indicated an overall boost would be demanded from the General Assembly to raise the median to $3717.

During the 1947 session, the legislature earmarked $39,123,000 for education including $173,000,000 for salaries and subsidies. The latter figure represented a $48,000,000 increase over the previous biennium.

Another $30,000,000 will be added automatically to the salary-subsidy level during the 1949-51 school year but reports among teachers indicate a more sizeable increase will be sought after the legislature convenes in January.

The congress will be highlighted tonight at its annual dinner with addresses by Gov. James H. Duff and Miss Mabel Studebaker, of Erie, president of the National Education Association. Miss Studebaker, Pennsylvania regional director of the NEA, will address the educators on "The American Way of Life and the Public Schools."

Mr. and Mrs. Kirk DeLorenzo, of 322 Locust street, report to pa news, that the cherry tree in their back yard is a center of interest these days. And no wonder, there are cherry blossoms now blooming!

Rains of the past day or so have pushed much soil and other debris onto the paved streets of the city. In some instances, the rain water has worked its way under blacktop surfaces and loosened the material. Considerable black top has washed off at County Line and East Washington streets.

Local lighters who are planning trips to the various woodland spots of the state whether in Lawrence County or elsewhere, are cautioned to be careful in their disposal of cigarette stubs, matches and other inflammable material. Fires in the woods at this time could consume considerable timber which is badly needed for various purposes.

SECURITY COUNCIL COLLED TO TACKLE EXPLOSIVE ISSUE

Vishinsky was looked to for some statement but he declined by saying he was unable to discuss the matter until he studied a text of all Austin had said.

He requested a delay and Spaak subsequently adjourned the meeting.

The sole speaker to take the floor after Austin had finished was Hector David Castro, El Salvador delegate. Castro announced that "it is just to break the ice that I am speaking."

When he concluded the committee again found itself in a dilemma. Vishinsky Asks Delay
The situation tried the usual good humor of Dr. Jose Arce, stomic energy commission member, and the Argentinian nervously asked Spaak to move a vote on a Canadian resolution calling on the General Assembly to approve the atom commission's reports.

He requested the vote since there were no speakers, he said, and "otherwise we will be here until Christmas."

Then Vishinsky made his announcement requesting a delay. Spaak admitted Vishinsky's request was in accordance with procedure.

This failed to convince Arce who, more nervous than ever, asked that the committee discuss other items. Spaak said he refused to mix issues and adjourned the committee until 10:30 a. m. tomorrow.

Vishinsky left the meeting hall jubilantly.

BEGIN MANUFACTURE LOW CARBON STEEL UNITED PLANT

steel for such articles as refrigerators, washers, and the thousand and one other uses to which steel is put in the home or store. The steel will be shipped to a steel company which in turn will speed the ingots on their way through billets and slabs down to the sheets desired.

There was no ceremony connected with the first pour Wednesday afternoon, but there was a large group of United employees present. Veterans in steel though they were, there was yet a touch of nervousness among them for this was the first pour of its kind. Anything might happen but nothing did save a successful operation that was as colorful as a giant fireworks display or a shower of meteors across a night sky.

Like A Soup Kettle

The 75-ton ladle which received the first pour looked like a king-sized soup kettle in a housewife's kitchen. The analogy was further seen as a huge crane picked the flaming ladle up and carried it down to the ingot molds waiting to receive the molten broth.

There was a sigh of satisfaction as the molten metal first came through the tap hole. Hardly more than a trickle at first, the molten serpent hissed and burned its way through the opening and as it hit the ladle a shower of sparks came up and cascaded down over the ladle side. Seen through dark blue glasses the display was almost like a sun burst.

As the molten steel, heated to 3100 degrees hissed down the chute into the ladle, Metallurgist Howard Klugh added ingredients much like a housewife flavoring soup. A little ferro-manganese, some aluminum, and towards the end a few shovels full of dolomite.

The addition of new ingredients changed the shade of the flaming tongues and for a time the ladle was a spectrum.

Into The Ingots

Ingot molds, 17,000 pounds capacity, were waiting for their ration of steel brew and as the open hearth disgorged its last spoonful of molten steel, the crane started the ladle on its way.

Here again was a fireworks display as the white hot stream hit the molds. To a couple of newspaper men watching the show it looked like a rehearsal of a pageant in Hades. To the steel men attending the birth of the steel ingots it was part of the day's work and their proximity to the hissing steel was probably not nearly as dangerous as it seemed.

The first pour was made under the supervision of Martin Cannon, foreman and head melter. Present also were Howard B. Cummings, plant superintendent, and Frank F. Brooks, assistant plant superintendent.

Following the changeover from an acid to a basic furnace, the furnace was charged with a load of pig iron, scrap steel and limestone. These "cooked" for the required number of hours and a look into the furnace at the bubbling seething mass seemed to lend credence to the theory of a literal Hell described by old time evangelists.

The first metal hit the chute at 4:32. Well inside an hour the ingot molds were cooling and the low carbon steel was on its way to appliances for your kitchen or basement.

Helium is non-inflammable because it is "unsocial" and will not combine with other elements. It is the only element that does not solidify when subjected to near-zero temperatures.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. OESTREICH, JR., Foreign Director

A heavily-built, affable man of 40, once known throughout Europe as "the revolutionary in a dinner jacket" swept into new world prominence today with his blunt notice to Generalissimo Stalin that the Kremlin's policy is forcing the west to hand to hand.

Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak's bitter denunciation of the Soviet system as "more audacious than that of the czars," created an international sensation. For even the U.N. General Assembly, which has experienced many stormy sessions in its brief lifetime, rarely has heard such complete outspokenness.

Spaak told the Soviets that they have made the western world afraid—not out of cowardice but of deep concern for the future. He said their fifth-columnists made Adolf Hitler's Brown-shirt counterparts "look like Boy Scouts."

He accused the Soviet Union of sabotage instead of cooperation in the United Nations. And he called for a return to the "luminous faith" of San Francisco, where the organization's charter was adopted amid such high hopes on all sides.

Spaak's use of bitter language and his peroration stressing high ideals both were entirely in character.

Strange Combination The Belgian statesman is a strange combination of direct actionist and visionary. He has brought to the politics of Belgium Western Europe and the U.N. a keen sense of timing inherited from his playwright father, Paul Spaak, and the liberal traditions of his great-grandfather, Paul Janson, for 40 years Belgium's outstanding socialist.

Spaak has adjusted his political consciousness to the exigencies of the hour. He supported Belgian neutrality before Adolf Hitler attacked, and after the war became one of the chief architects of a Western European bloc that scattered this same traditional neutrality to the winds.

Once Was Extreme Radical In his youth and after the first World War, Spaak was an extreme radical.

He jumped for everything, unionist and anarchist and gave the benefit of his legal training to conscientious objectors who needed it.

He once defended an anti-Fascist who took a pot-shot at an Italian prince. He took to the streets with the "Young Socialist Guard" and took part in the window-smashing spree that identified politics in Europe before the second World War.

He even made the "pilgrimage to Moscow" and while he never espoused communism, he was frank in saying that the Soviet experiment interested him.

Days Of Violence Pass When Spaak's days of violence passed and he was elected to parliament his old tenets were put away. But he clung to the more sober, basic doctrine of socialism. (Continued on Page Six)

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

TWO BOOKS RAISE A QUESTION

Is the American family headed for catastrophe? If it is will it carry with it the destruction of our democracy and entire social order? Last year, 450,000 divorces were granted in U. S. courts. Consider the number of children involved.

Two significant books were published last year: "Family and Civilization," by Carl C. Zimmerman of Harvard, and "The Family and Democratic Society," by Professor Joseph Kirk Folsom of Vassar.

Zimmerman's book believes he can see the same signs of decay within the American family as led to the fall of ancient Greece and Rome—the growing concept of marriage as a personal matter rather than one of religious significance; the increase of divorce on "minor" or "meaningless" grounds; the "revolt of youth" against their parents; the upsurge of juvenile delinquency; and the rapidly growing acceptance of sexual irregularities—evidence, he thinks, of recurring "atomism" that won't stop with the family but will spread through our entire social structure.

Dr. Zimmerman offers a few suggestions as partial immediate remedies: more children, preferably three or four; revival of family spirit and activity among the learned and leadership classes, which he says were first to weaken in competition with forces outside the home, and in parental authority. (Often in this column I have pointed out that parents of the upper socio-economic-educational strata have been foremost at relinquishing home controls of children and at failing for excessive self-expression.) "There is little left now" within the average family, thinks Zimmerman, to hold the family together.

Disagreeing with this dark picture from the Harvard prophet, the Vassar professor, Joseph Kirk Folsom, thinks the American family is not disintegrating at all but merely changing its form and value to keep up with the changes taking place in the large social structure of which the family is a part. "Something called 'the family,'" he says, "has survived all revolutions of history. We need not worry about its continued existence." He believes the family will endure for the companionship it affords, if for nothing else. So do I.

Folsom thinks that "when family members become more independent of one another economically and morally their dependence upon one another for love may invite less frustration. It may be that further decline of the family as an economic unit may strengthen it as an emotional unit." He believes that the same holds true for family authority; that the continued lessening of parental restraint will result in increasing parental affection, understanding and responsibility; that more self-expression and lessened parental restraint and increasing abdication of authority by parents spell democracy. He appears to believe that restraint and love are mutually antagonistic. I don't. Properly balanced they are allies. Love without restraint commits suicide.

Now every visitor to Boston wants to see not only where Reverend Father McCarthy hung his lanterns on the British but where McCarthy hung it on the Yanks.

As soon as this is out of the way we can get back to our normal worries over peace, prices and politics . . . and we have proved that we can do it.

Our interest in the ball game should not be interpreted as an indication that we are not on the ball.

But if Stalin is smart he will do nothing about the future of Berlin until the future of Boston has been decided.

"Big Bertha" Of 1948

Washington Calling

(By Marquis Childs)

Old-Time Battle In Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 30.—Here in Oklahoma, which is half southern and half northern, they are having an old-fashioned political contest. It is politics in the accepted American tradition, with no modern gadgets.

That is to say, neither the Dixiecrats nor the Wallaceites are on the ballot. The race is between Republicans and Democrats, which is why this is one of the few really doubtful states.

While Democratic leaders are supposedly not making any claims, the Truman-Barkeley ticket may even have a slight edge as of the present with 21 steps on his two-day schedule, President Truman has campaigned across this state like a candidate for sheriff, trying to increase what may be a small advantage.

Would Have Taken Some If the Dixiecrats and the Wallace party were on the ballot, Democratic defeat would have been certain. Expert observers believe Wallace might have polled 40,000 or 50,000 votes, virtually all of them from the Democrats.

In the southern part of the state, settled largely from Texas, Arkansas and the deep south, the Dixiecrats would have taken Democratic votes from the other end of the political scale. In the Democratic primary Gomer Smith, veteran rabble-rouser, violently hallangued the southern counties on the race issue, painting a lurid picture of the races forced to mingle in swimming pools and other public places as a result of the president's civil-rights program.

Although he was defeated by former Gov. Robert S. Kerr, Smith got a sizable vote. All the Dixiecrats can do in protest is stay home on election day. If they stay home in numbers, it could have a decisive effect, since the Democrats' best hope is a large turnout Nov. 2.

Neutral Stand Taken A shrewd and resourceful politician, Kerr is taking a neutral stand on civil rights. He has said, that if elected to the senate, he will not vote for any law contrary to Oklahoma's state school law.

The real states-righter and opponent of federal enforcement of civil rights is the Republican senatorial candidate, Rep. Ross Rixley. Rixley is running in place of Senator Ed Moore, a wealthy Republican oil man who decided to retire.

Rixley voted against the bill in the house to abolish the poll tax in the southern states where it is still a prerequisite for voting. Both on the domestic and the international side his record is largely reactionary, and Kerr and the Democrats will use it against him. This may help to offset the appeal of his genial, hearty personality.

Unreconstructed Republican Rixley is, in short, an unreconstructed Republican of the pre-dawn, pre-Herbert Hoover era. If Gov. Thomas E. Dewey means to reshape the party and give it a new direction, as his speeches indicate, he will sooner or later have to come to grips with the Rixleys, and particularly if they show up in numbers in the new congress.

Texas is a hotbed of unreconstructed Republicanism. Repudiated on the rest of the state, the hard core of isolationist diehards survives there, promoting an organization called pro-America, successor to America First. They are Roosevelt-haters who believe "that man" deliberately brought on the war with all its evil consequences.

Girls Won't Like This

By PAUL GALLICO

The lady members of my small but exclusive clientele are not going to appreciate the remarks that are about to follow, but having just returned from a stimulating Fall promenade down our Main Drag, Fifth Avenue, crowded with hurrying throngs of shoppers, mostly feminine, I feel an irresistible compulsion to make them.

They begin like this: "Fevvins sakes, darling, why don't you get together on the styles of clothing you are going to wear these days? All of you look like nothing so much as a bunch of fugitives from a thrift shop and graduates of Ragbag Academy. I've never seen such a mishmash of garments and gummied up styles in all my born days."

Dressed From Rummage Sale I don't know how it is in other cities, but in our town it seems as though the girls were on the loose, dressed from a rummage sale covering at least five decades. To take a look at the feminine population anking up and down our avenues you would never guess that there was any such thing as style, chic, taste, the New Look, the Old Peep or the Advance Gaze. It is a kind of a hablimentary bedlam.

In one block, you will encounter short dresses, long dresses, medium dresses, flare skirts, furled umbrellas skirts, slit skirts, billowy skirts, tight skirts, skirts that aid the street cleaning department in brushing off the sidewalks, skirts that reveal every knob on the knee. I tell you that as far as style is concerned, complete anarchy reigns, and the result is not pleasing to your fastidious commentator. Why don't you girls get together, make up your mind what is the fashion, or what is really becoming to you and then stick to it?

Need Consistency Not that I believe in uniforms for ladies or approve of all of you slavishly following one design as you did when the New Look first knocked you for a row of petticoats, but I do insist that there ought to be some kind of consistency of line and length and concept so that the eye of the observer is not subjected to unbearable torques and torsions as it is yanked now to the ankle, now to the thigh, or thoroughly crossed when confronted by some doll who looks like a combination of something out of Godey's Book, the Atlantic City Bathing Beauty Contest and Les Sylphides. Darned if I didn't come across one babe wearing a Ballerina AND a bustle. That just doesn't work cut, you know.

There are women abroad still wearing pre-war length dresses, kids clad in the ballet uniform of black swirl-skirt and white blouse, ladies stuck with those suits with bolero jackets determined to wear them out, mademoiselles who have had an advance gander at the new French style which is apparently based on the over-all design of the lead pencil and others who in a fit of despondency over the whole business apparently grabbed an old pair of portieres, wrapped them around and came out. It is, my little cauliflowerers, to become confused.

No More Soothing Here The aspect is no more soothing in the shoe department, the latitude toward which the eye of man invariably wanders. Here are open-toed shoes, closed-toed shoes, no-toed shoes, shoes with straps, shoes with buckles, high heels, low heels, heels round and square, wedges or platforms on which you hobble precariously like a China-girl with bound feet, or sloppy ballet slippers in which you flap along the pave like purposeful ducks.

The hat division is not much better being likewise in a state of transition apparently with everything from poke bonnets to those things with a solitary flower sticking up out of them which tend to give the wearer the aspect of the village idiot.

All this might be bearable if you girls did not appear to have given up all attempts at wearing what goes with what so that hats, shoes, dresses, coats and accessories are scrambled into a kind of bewildering sartorial medley which I maintain is painful to behold. Wake up, Miss America! (Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

They have tried to starve the inhabitants of Western Berlin, by closing the gateways of the railroad and the canal to all traffic. They have forced the Allies to resort to the air in order to feed the Germans under the Allies' care and protection. And finally, they seem not to force the issue, even the air corps from Frankfurt to the sea, as well as the established government of Berlin itself. They (Continued on Page Six)

Silicosis Cure May Be Found

Research Work Making Progress
It Is Disclosed By State Department

By JACK WARD
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
HARRISBURG, Sept. 30.—Silicosis, the dread "miners' asthma", kills more than 300 workers each year in Pennsylvania.

The Department of Labor and Industry said today that during the first eight months of 1948, the Workmen's Compensation Bureau received 148 claims from victims of silicosis, last year, 207 workers applied for disability benefits, the majority from the state's anthracite mines.

The department's report followed disclosure that five doctors at Philadelphia's Jefferson hospital have developed what eventually may be a cure for the deadly disease. The research is being conducted under a $275,000 grant from the United Mine Workers' anthracite and welfare fund.

Have Brought Relief
The researchers' discoveries reportedly have brought relief to hundreds of hard coal miners permanently disabled by silicosis. Disabled silicosis victims are entitled to two-thirds of their pay up to $20 for 500 weeks but not more than $10,000 under the state workmen's compensation law.

Control of the disease is in the hands of industry itself, according to Dr. Joseph Shilen, chief of the Health Department's Industrial Hygiene Division. The disease, in addition to miners, can affect workers in iron, lead, zinc and quarrying industries.

Shilen pointed out the malady is "preventable through control of dust at its point of origin". It is the Industrial Hygiene Division's duty to inspect plants "to see that silica dust is kept within safe limits".

Have "Know-How"
"We have the 'know-how' to prevent and control the disease and most industry is aware of it," Shilen explained.

The sickness results when workers are exposed to dust from sand or rock with a high silica content. Its chief symptom is shortness of breath. Dust entering the lungs causes a chemical reaction and leaves a scar tissue which affects the elasticity of lung tissues, he explained.

Shilen pointed out that the disease is a chronic, slow-growing condition which results from long periods of work in unfavorable conditions.

Industries, recognizing the threat of the malady, generally are taking precautions to eliminate or minimize the hazard for the protection of their workers, he said.

Just seventy years ago this Fall the original Tide Water Company began its pioneer development of the now world-famous oil fields near Bradford, Pennsylvania.

Today a seventy-year-long list of achievements stands behind the familiar TYDOL Flying-A sign at Tide Water Associated Oil Company dealers.

Yes, such real achievements as the historic pioneer pipe line from Bradford, Pennsylvania, to the sea... the record-breaking Thermofor "cat cracker" at Bayonne, N.J., that helped supply 100-octane gas in plenty for our Nation's wartime need... and the just-completed 610 1/4-day record-shattering penstock run of the fluid "cat cracker" at Tide Water Associated's Avon, California, refinery.

Simulation Of New Business In State Is Urged

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 30.—(INS)—Simulation of new business in Pennsylvania was urged yesterday as Pennsylvania week observers paid tribute to business and industrial day.

Edwin M. Clark, chairman of the southeastern Pennsylvania division of Pennsylvania Week and vice-president of the Bell Telephone Co., declared that if Pennsylvania is to remain great it must continue to attract new industry.

In an address to the Optimist Club in Philadelphia, Clark said plans were being studied by the state legislature to reduce taxes on industry in an effort to attract more firms to the state.

U. S. Attorney Gerald A. Gleason told a Lions Club luncheon that a very definite effort is now being made to attract industry to Pennsylvania and the effort is showing tangible results.

Immediate Trial Asked For O'Malley

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 30.—(INS)—A petition filed in quarter sessions court Wednesday demanded an immediate trial for former Chief Magistrate John J. O'Malley on charges of bribery and extortion.

Lemuel B. Schofield, O'Malley's attorney, said that O'Malley was "confident his innocence will be speedily established at his trial."

Schofield declared that O'Malley was accused of corrupt actions in only two of the multiple malfeasance charges against him. The other violations, the attorney said, "constitute only violations of the magistrates act of 1937."

The court placed the case on the regular list to be heard by Judge Byron A. Miller Friday morning.

care for the Dewey campaign nor for that matter, for Dewey himself. They would have preferred Senator Robert A. Taft, and their real love was Taft's Ohio colleague, Senator John W. Bricker.

Will Work Hard

They are keeping their criticism of Dewey to the privacy of the club locker room. They will work hard for the GOP ticket and spend money generously, as in the past, in the belief that any Republican is better than a New Deal Democrat.

Oil money is an important commodity in Oklahoma politics. Detached observers guess the Senator Moore spent upwards of a half million dollars of his own money in his campaign six years ago. Kerr is said to be worth $10,000,000, most of it made in oil. He was a popular governor and is rated a highly effective vote-getter.

As in certain other states, the weight of both ability and appeal is on the Democratic side when one examines the congressional candidates. Thus, Oklahomans are properly proud of the national reputation won by Rep. Mike Monroney of Oklahoma City for his constructive record in the house. With only weak opposition, Monroney seems fairly sure of re-election. Late in October Dewey will invade this state, and even if he should succeed in carrying it for himself it is highly doubtful that he can pull GOP congressional candidates along with him.

Concern Felt For Winter Grain Crop

HARRISBURG, Sept. 30.—(INS)—State agriculture officials today expressed concern for the 1949 winter grain crop because of abnormally dry soil conditions during sowing season.

The State Agriculture Department reported conditions over most of the state prevent or retard plowing and sowing of wheat and rye. Seeds have little chance to germinate in dry soil and plants may be too small to last through the winter, it was explained.

Slight Rainfall

A Federal-State survey showed that most barley has been sown; little is above ground and stands are uneven.

There was no measurable rainfall on over half the area of the state during the past week the department reported. Three-quarters of two inches fell in extreme southwestern sections.

Rain averaged only .17 of an inch for the state compared with the normal .82 of an inch.

Wells are dry in some central sections and farmers report pastures extremely dry and in need of rain, the department said.

and won the confidence of the Belgian people.

Spaak's critics never were hesitant to recall the days when he was "the revolutionary in a dinner jacket." But his supporters, with a nice turn for taking the edge off violence, always recalled that his window-breaking was done with a beautiful silver-headed walking stick that belonged to his father.

Because of his quasi-revolutionary background, the Soviets always have listened to Spaak with more patience than other western spokesmen whom they insist are the tools of reactionaries and makers of war.

Has Ability To Speak

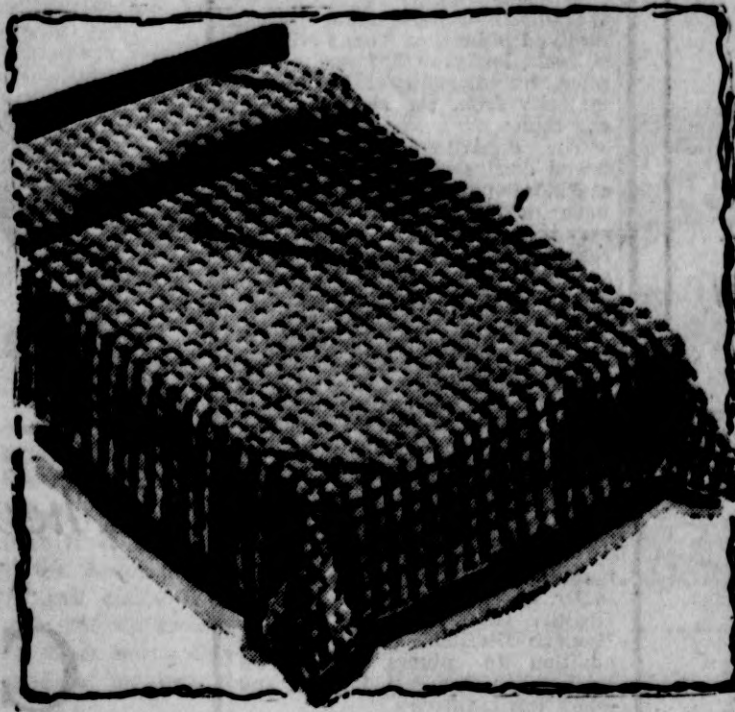

He does have an ability to speak to all factions and parties on their own level, and this always has been held responsible for his great success as first president of the U.N. Assembly.

It is certain that his vigorous address, coupled with his leadership of a movement to combine the military strength of the west with funds and supplies needed from the United States, is being given very serious consideration at the Kremlin.

At least, no Muscovite, in an official status or otherwise, can say they failed to understand what he was driving at.

have ignored every agreement as to the government of Berlin since the surrender. They have ignored their promises and agreements as to everything connected with the settlement of World War II. They have vetoed every proposition put up to them in the United Nations.

The purpose of the Soviets, Stalin, Molotov and company seems to be to force an open break between the Western Powers, ourselves, England and France; to resort to force which means they are willing to risk World War III, which will be the Soviets against the world. They believe we are utterly unprepared. The armies of the United States have been disbanded. Our arms and ammunition have been sold to the pawn broker, but yet the Soviets are afraid of making an open break themselves; they fear the United States.

That is why I refer only to the "Soviets," not to the "Russians."

IN THE OPEN

October emissaries are already riding post-haste across the countryside. The outdoorsman stands in the country lane and watches these dispatch riders as they plaster woods and fields with advance notices of the coming carnival of color.

Goldenrod is flaring in clear yellow flame all across the bottomlands, releasing a curling mist of dull ester smoke which rolls languidly through the open thickets. Vivid orange fruits of the bitter-sweet sprawl in festooned brilliance across remote fence corners.

Word has reached the tall black gum that it's time to "git up and git" and almost overnight gaudy red tickets to the coming show have appeared among the glossy green leaves. Even the migratory birds are press-agenting the coming spectacle from countless courageous throats as they move southward before the attacking legions of the Frost King.

Few Late Elderberries
There are still a few late elderberries to be had for the effort of ploughing through the briar tangles to get at them. I managed to pick up a chip basket of these juicy fellows for some home-made jelly and in the process also picked up somewhere near a million hitchhiking beggar ticks. A stout jack-knife blade soon scrapes off these persistent seeds.

The chimney swifts have forsaken the valley once again for their winter convention in Central America. They held a sort of gathering of the clans for an evening or two, sipping and sooming over the valley as though in rehearsal for the long hop south. Then came the final briefing and they were off.

Mr. Woolly Bear has also received that urgent word to "git up and git". I see him everywhere on the paved highways, scuttling along as he seeks out a sheltered spot to weave him some "woolies" and curl up for the big sleep. Return of the warm months will see this hurrying wayfarer flying about as the beautiful Isabella tiger moth.

I made a short traverse across some upland country to help usher in another Fall season. Purple milkwort was blooming in the high meadows, and the little speedwell was there, together with a late daisy or two, the common yarrow and some belated hawkweed blooms.

The confusion of the Fall asters and the goldenrods is too much for me. Some of the experts can rattle off the names of the different varieties, but I am completely mystified as to many of the members of these big families. I can pick out the calico aster, and the purple-stemmed and New England varieties, but that's about my limit unless aided by hand lens and field manual.

I waded through fields clear full to the hilt of these many relatives in the aster and goldenrod clans. A walnut tree here and there had hung out a full quota of fat green fruits. In a piece of woodland I came across a large patch of the rather rare fern called narrowleaf spleenwort. Fruiting clusters of the virgin's-bower, the clematis also familiarly known as "Old Man's Beard", hung over the undergrowth.

In the deeper woodlands an occasional spot of vivid scarlet betrayed the seed cluster of the Jack-in-the-pulpit. The preacher had long since left the parish, but the fire of his sermons still smoldered in these glowing echoes. Clusters of the round blue-black berries of the wild sarsaparilla were also in evidence on the forest floor.

Hoofprints of Deer
The sharp hoofprints of a heavy deer led the way across the tiny desert built up by sandpumpings from a gas well just recently drilled in. I followed across this "trackless" waste and almost immediately ran into the fearsome spicebush bugaboo which haunts the aromatic spice bush and the sassafras shrubbery. Some curled leaves on the sassafras aroused my suspicion. I rolled them back, and there lay the bugaboo, snug and safe in their homemade sleeping bags.

It is really quite startling to pull aside the leaf blanket and come upon the large green caterpillar, with his two fearsome black "eyes" staring up at you. In time he'll be the common spice-bush swallow-tailed butterfly. An old friend, Miranda, the banded garden spider had set up big fly traps among the goldenrods. I paused long enough at each of the perfect orbs to poke Mrs. Miranda with a finger and watch her shake the whole web violently in her anger at such treatment.

Stiffen Zoning Requirements For Liquor License

HARRISBURG, Sept. 30.—(INS)—A new regulation adopted by the state liquor control board today stiffened zoning requirements for license applicants whose place of business is in the neighborhood of a school or church.

A liquor board spokesman said that henceforth investigators will measure in a straight line the distance between the establishment and the nearest church or school. Liquor-dispensing is banned within 300 feet of such institution under the liquor code.

Previously the LCB measured distances from a point on the curb line in front of the establishment to a point on the curb line in front of the nearest church or school.

The board's new regulation now fixes the distance at 300 feet "regardless of any intervening land, water, buildings or structures."

Change National Guard Rulings On Commissions

HARRISBURG, Sept. 30.—(INS)—Enlisted men in the Pennsylvania National Guard today were eligible to obtain commissions without special Army training, it was announced by the department of military affairs.

Adjutant General Frank A. Weber announced that guardsmen may now be commissioned without leaving home or taking time off from civilian jobs. Previously, enlisted men could be commissioned only by attending regular courses at the army officer candidate school.

Temporary Waiver

Second lieutenant appointments may now be granted under temporary waiver to enlisted men and warrant officers, Weber said, if they meet the following requirements:

(1) Complete one year's service with the armed services or the National Guard, (2) Successfully complete a 10-series Army extension course and (3) Receive recommendation by an examining board for appointment or commission with waiver.

Pittsburgh Slayer Sentenced To Die

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 30.—(INS)—Edward Dipofi Jr., 24-year-old convicted cop killer, was under sentence today to die in the electric chair for murder.

The youthful gunman heard the sentence read Wednesday by Judge William H. McNaugher without emotion. He had no statement to make.

Dipofi was accused of killing Policeman Joseph Chmelynski during a robbery in nearby Bethel township last March 5. His attorneys said they will file an appeal in the supreme court.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 30.—(INS)—Five hundred leaders of the Pennsylvania Veterans of Foreign Wars and its auxiliary will honor State Commander H. V. Hartman, New Kensington, and auxiliary President Mrs. Rachel M. Montanye, Huntingdon Valley, at a testimonial dinner at Harrisburg Saturday.

VFW headquarters announced that Commander Eleanor G. Rigby, USNR, of the Navy department public relations office, will be the principal speaker.

The VFW Council of Administration will meet Sunday to discuss veterans' problems, legislation, internal affairs and to map plans for statewide activities for the next three months, it was announced.

Orchestra Wage Agreement Made

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 30.—(INS)—Threat that the Philadelphia orchestra would not be heard this season was ended today after the orchestra association and the musicians' union reached agreement on pay scales.

Harl McDonald, association director, announced late yesterday that agreement had been reached increasing the minimum pay scale by $5 a week, to $115.

McDonald said the $5 boost goes only to 60 musicians who are receiving minimum pay. No increase is provided for those already receiving above the minimum.

Earlier in the week the orchestra association announced cancellation of the 1948-49 season because of union demands for pay raises for all 162 musicians.

Declares U.S. Can Maintain Berlin Airlift For Years

U.S. Military Governor Clay Declares War Not 'Imminent Nor Necessary'

By RICHARD S. WEIL
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

BERLIN, Sept. 30.—U. S. Military Governor Gen. Lucius D. Clay bitterly attacked Russia's "ruthless attempt" to starve out Berlin. He said that the United States is prepared to maintain the air lift even for five years if necessary and reiterated that war is neither "imminent nor necessary."

Gen. Clay expressed his views on the crucial Berlin situation in an exclusive interview with International News Service. He said that submission in the issue to the U. N. Security Council will not alter basic American policy.

Gen. Clay said he was enthusiastic about the Security Council decision as it demonstrates the western powers' willingness to abide by pledges to utilize U. N. machinery to the fullest.

Doubts Quick Solution
He said he doubted any quick solution and added:

"The effect upon the Soviets will be determined largely by the mounting pressure of world opinion."

"I have not seen any indication that they are preparing to relax their squeeze upon the city."

Gen. Clay said the Russians have lost all chance of attaining their political objectives in Germany peacefully because of widespread opposition to their "ruthless attempts to starve the people of Berlin into yielding to their aims for control of Berlin."

The military governor said he hopes the U. N. will produce an "efficacious and durable" solution.

Can Continue Airlift
But in any case, the airlift can be continued for a "year or five years more if necessary."

Gen. Clay said that expansion of the airlift with larger planes will enable complete substitution for all normal surface transportation.

Clay said it is impossible to provide enough provisions and materials for widespread reconstruction of Berlin. But he said the present and contemplated airlift capacity is "more than sufficient to take care of all the normal needs of life."

Gen. Clay took vigorous exception to charges that he is imposing his own policy and forcing the U. S. government to go along.

He stressed that all decision for Berlin and the other occupied areas rest within the framework of policy enunciated by former Secretary of State Byrnes at Stuttgart in 1946.

The general concluded:

"Our government declared that we intend to stay here and I assume that means 'forever'."

He said that even United Nations failure on the Berlin problem will leave the situation the same as now, adding:

"We are prepared to cope with it as long as necessary."

Around Hollywood

By RUTH BRIGHAM
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 30.—(INS)—England, take Danny Kaye away—and for nothing. This is on the record.

The famous comedian told me today:

"The reception I got in England was so inspiring that I'd be willing to go back to the Palladium and play for nothing."

Kaye, you know, is the one who slipped up and called Queen Elizabeth "honey"—and she loved it. That's when he was knocking 'em in the aisles over there.

One Stipulation
His offer to return for nothing makes only one stipulation—the theater will have to pay his expenses. And he stays at the Savoy, if you know what that means.

Kaye says England still goes big for vaudeville—they call it "variety"—and his six weeks appearance at the Palladium led to one conclusion:

He plans to perform in every English speaking country in the world.

"To that end," he said, "I'm planning a tour of Australia the first part of next year. And after that I'll make appearances in all the British provinces."

Busy As Beaver
The comedian is a busy little beaver out at Warner's studio now, where he's making "Happy Times", a Jerry Wald production.

On the studio set he discussed offers from Portugal, Spain and Brazil, but said:

"I'm leery of speaking before audiences who speak a foreign language because I'm afraid they won't understand my type of comedy."

He shouldn't really be afraid, because it was in Japan he concocted the scat song that helped make him famous.

"Gilt Gai Giddle" was born out of his failure to understand Nipponese, and the Japs' failure to understand English and he thought it would be sort of cozy to mix up a little gibberish.

Nobody Knows
Then nobody would know what he was talking about—including himself—so everybody was in the same boat.

Danny Kaye doesn't sing the scat song in "Happy Times", but he does give out with some of those lightning tongue-twisters.

He points out there's a lot of difference between nonsense songs and those with fast lyrics.

In this picture he plays a young

"Gypsy" who gets tangled up in a terrible series of messes when a grabbing town council mistakes him for a government inspector. When he decides to play the same way he tries to figure out what sort of an inspector he should impersonate.

This gives rise to a triple mirror in which Danny sings a quartet with himself. He actually harmonizes with himself as three other people of different nationalities.

PRODUCTS DECLINE
HARRISBURG, Sept. 30.—(INS)—A state survey today indicated a $5,518,000 decline in the value of Centre county products between 1946 and 1947.

The report, issued by the department of internal affairs, evaluated 1946 production at $42,993,700 and moved the figure for 1947 down to $37,475,000.

Payrolls during the same period experienced only a slight drop from $12,912,400 to $12,491,200 while the number of job holders reportedly declined from 6393 to 5890.

SPECIAL FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

Over 1,000 At Open House At Can Company

New Castle's observance of Pennsylvania Week was featured today by attendance of more than a thousand guests at an open house arranged by the American Can company, during the morning.

The open house was held between 9 o'clock in the morning and 2:30 in the afternoon at the company's factory in the seventh ward.

About 500 friends and relatives of employees took part in the open house as special guests, following the issuance of printed invitations to them by each employee in the plant.

Numerous civic and business leaders participated in today's event, which was sponsored by the American Can company in cooperation with the Greater New Castle Association.

Officially Launched

The open house at the can plant was officially launched this morning at ceremonies in which Mayor John F. Haven and J. L. Matthews, a director of the Greater New Castle Association, formally joined with officials of the plant in welcoming the large crowd of visitors.

The open house was planned by a plant-wide committee whose members extended personal greetings to each guest today upon arrival at the factory.

Serving as chairman of the "hospitality committee" was Alan K. Schmidt, plant manager, who shook hands with almost every one of the guests who participated in the event.

A delegation of visiting representatives of the American Can company was on hand to participate in the "Pennsylvania Week" event. The visitors included S. D. Arms, Frank Thompson and Sam Hyde from the general offices, New York, and C. F. Helberger, E. M. Pell and L. F. Baer from the central division headquarters, Chicago.

WALKOUT IS ENDED

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 30.—(INS)—Westinghouse Electric Corp. reported today that workers in the East Pittsburgh Switch Gear Division returned to their jobs, ending a 24-hour walkout.

Some 670 CIO production workers on different shifts walked out Tuesday in a dispute over group wage classifications.

Report Of Atomic Energy Commission Gets First Place

Will Be First On Assembly Agenda At Paris In Decision Of Committee

PARIS, Sept. 30.—(INS)—The U.N. general assembly's political committee voted to give first place on the assembly agenda to the report of the U.N. Atomic Energy Commission.

The action was taken by a vote of 43 to five—with six abstentions—over the objections of Soviet Delegate Jacob Malik.

The report flatly blames Russia for the failure to reach agreement on international atomic control.

The committee agreed to Soviet wishes, however, by given second place on the agenda to Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky's disarmament proposal.

Vishinsky, in an assembly speech charging the United States and Great Britain with plotting atomic war against Russia, proposed that armaments be cut one-third and that "aggressive" atom weapons be outlawed under Security Council supervision.

The committee voted to place the Palestine problem third on the assembly list after voting down an Anglo-American proposal to make it first.

Greece, disposition of Italy's pre-war African colonies and Korea were made fourth, fifth and sixth, respectively, on the agenda.

Communist Troops Reported On March To Capture China

NANKING, Sept. 30. — (INS) — Two million Communist troops are reported on the march today in a new general offensive aimed at winning control of all China.

The Red armies already have scored one major victory—the capture of Tsinan, capital of the strategic and economically important province of Shantung.

Tsinan fell to the Communists despite the defense efforts of one of the Nationalist government's ablest commanders, Gen. Wang Yao-Wu, military governor of Shantung.

The city was captured after Communist General Chen Yi, deploying an estimated 100,000 troops, cut the railroad south of Tsinan and blocked all Nationalist efforts to send in reinforcements.

The capture paves the way for a Red drive into the hearts of central China and thus poses a grave threat to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's government.

Foreign observers feel that initiative in China's civil war now has shifted to the Communist side.

Butler Man Has Big Potato Yield

BUTLER, Sept. 30.—As a reward for his hard work of planting, cultivating spraying, fertilizing and other agricultural methods, Lonnie List of Clinton township has a yield of 580 bushels of potatoes on a measured acre of ground on his farm. The yield was checked by Tom Osborne, assistant county agent, to verify Mr. List's statement.

The yield required 24 bushels of seed, planted April 23, just 11 inches apart in the rows and 34 inches wide. Eight tons of manure were plowed under with a ryegrass sod. One thousand pounds of 5-10-10 fertilizer was applied in the rows which were weeded twice, cultivated three times and sprayed with diathene and DDT.

Parent-Teachers

Rose Avenue Association met on Tuesday evening in the Rose Avenue school building for their first session of the 1948-49 season.

Mrs. John O'Neill had charge of the program and presented the Melody Sextette composed of Mrs. Dorothy Perdue, Mrs. Jean Melvin, Mrs. Lois Bechtel, Mrs. Frances Barnes, Ruth Weir and Margaret Weir who pleased the audience with three numbers. Miss Helen Wilson, school nurse, the main speaker of the evening, gave a very instructive talk on "Your Child's Health".

A social hour followed with Mrs. Clarence McHattie in charge of games.

Refreshments were served by the social committee.

The next meeting will be held Tuesday evening, October 26, at which time an auction sale will take place.

BIBLE TAKES FIRST PLACE IN INFLUENCING LIVES

"Be doers of the word, and not hearers only."—James 1:22.

What book read in childhood influenced you more than any other? Think back to when you were small, and recall the books you read or were read to. Remember the stories you were told? All had some effect upon our childhood minds.

Thousands of persons would answer that the Bible, read and quoted at home, the stories told and retold; heard at Sunday school and church, was the strongest remembered influence in your childhood.

The Bible is a whole set of books in one. There is the story of creation and what followed. Then through the tales of the Hebrew fathers—Moses, Joshua, Abraham, Jacob and so on and so forth, each with a lesson to be learned from his life.

Don't think for a moment, you older people, that children don't get the moral of these stories along with the adventures—and without parents and teachers pointing it out, too.

Sentences from what book come to mind first when one is in trouble? From the Bible—"The Lord is my strength and my redeemer. Whom then, shall I fear?" and countless others.

When the bombs were falling on the doomed cities of Europe, many thousands of people were repeating to themselves as they prayed, "Yea, though I walk thru the Valley of the Shadow of Death, I will fear no evil: for Thou art with me; Thy rod and Thy staff comfort me."

The Bible is the best selling book of all time. The language of this great book is so beautiful that passages from it come to mind not only in times of stress and grief but in many, many emotional times of life, to one who has made a habit of reading it.

David, whom the Lord raised from a humble shepherd boy to be one of the greatest of Hebrew kings, author of the Psalms, acknowledges his Maker in the beautiful words allotted to our lesson today, and acknowledged his indebtedness in guiding him all his days:

"O how I love Thy law! It is my meditation all the day. Thou through Thy commandments hast made me wiser than mine enemies; for they are ever with us."

"I have refrained my feet from every evil way, that I might keep Thy word. I have not departed from Thy judgments: for Thou hast taught me."

"How sweet are Thy words unto my taste! yea, sweeter than honey to my mouth!"

Students Fish For Education

CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—(INS)—Fifty-seven students are learning today that getting college credit from the University of Illinois is just as easy as fishing.

And that is exactly what they are doing—but without bait. Armed with rod and reel, they set out in a boat from the Navy Pier school to Lake Michigan and there learn the intricacies of fishing as part of the course in physical education.

Episcopal Church To Sponsor Plays

Episcopallians of this city and other cities of the nation are sponsoring an entirely different departure in radio programs in the presentation of "Great Scenes From Great Plays" which will be aired for the first time Friday evening, October 1, over station WKST from 8 to 8:30 o'clock.

The programs are aimed directly at the more than 70 million Americans who have no church affiliation and will be heard coast to coast at the same time as the program being presented in this city. President Will Make Campaign In Pennsylvania

HARRISBURG, Sept. 30.—(INS)—President Truman will spend four days campaigning through Eastern Pennsylvania next month, it was announced by Democratic State Chairman Philip Mathews. The itinerary will start October 6 when the president delivers a major address in Shibe Park at Philadelphia. Mathews told directors of the Pennsylvania Federation of Democratic Women's Clubs at Harrisburg.

The following day, Truman will go to Reading, Allentown, Bethlehem and Easton before moving into New Jersey, Mathews added. October 7, he said, Truman will return to Pennsylvania via Binghamton, N. Y., and will deliver platform talks in Scranton, Wilkes-Barre and Mauch Chunk. Democratic leaders from the anthracite area will confer with the president during a 70-minute layover at Scranton.

Mr. Truman will return to Pennsylvania October 23 but the schedule has not been arranged, Mathews said.

JULY MILK OUTPUT
HARRISBURG.—Milk produced on Pennsylvania farms during July totaled 498,000,000 pounds, a drop of four per cent from June and four per cent under production for July 1947, according to official Federal-State surveys announced recently by Miles Horst, State Secretary of Agriculture. The drop in milk production was seasonal.

In spite of territorial losses since World War II, the British Commonwealth of Nations still has more than half a billion people and covers some 13,000,000 square miles.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Sept. 30.—(INS)—Three men who fled the Schuylkill County Jail Tuesday were under heavy guard today at Pottsville.

Three Pottsville policemen flushed Joseph Rogers, 45, of Wilkes-Barre, and 30-year-old Herbert Klock, of Ashland, from a cave near the community last night shortly after 7 o'clock.

Raymond Thomas, 45, of Pottsville, was nabbed on the outskirts of town Tuesday night, about nine hours after the trio escaped by threatening prison yardmaster George Wollung with a toy pistol.

Eckerd's Mark 50 Years Of Service In Drug Business

New Castle Store Joins In With Golden Anniversary Event Of Chain Started In 1898

Eckerd's, 118 East Washington street, one of New Castle's oldest drug stores, along with the 25 other stores of the chain, will celebrate its fiftieth anniversary beginning today. It was announced today by Ted Lewis, manager of the local store.

It was in the fall of 1898 that J. Milton Eckerd, a young man who had six years of experience working in a Harrisburg store, hung out a sign at 1105 State street, Erie, announcing "J. M. Eckerd, Patent Medicines". Opening with a $300 capital, Mr. Eckerd was his own stock man, clerk, window trimmer and with the influx of business, was forced to hire an assistant, a short time later.

Having "sold" the people of Erie with the idea of the new store and a place where medicine could be purchased reasonably, he garnered the idea of a chain of drug stores. In those early days, a chain of drug stores was unheard of. The idea when put into practice was found to be a good one. Thus, in 1911, America's first chain of cut rate drug stores was born.

Other Stores Started
When the country's business returned to normal in 1921, following the first world war the founder expanded from his second store in Wilmington, Del., to Charlotte, N. C., where a third store was started. From these points, the chain expanded to the present 26 stores from South Bend, Ind., east to Delaware in the north and Chattanooga, Tenn., in the south.

In each of the stores, down through the years, men have been developed, to operate each one as an individual with the least amount of supervision possible. The managers now make their own decisions and run their own store. The main office advises each store of new items and how to effect saving that can be passed on to the customer.

As in other stores, the New Castle store of the Eckerd chain remains closed on Sunday with the management taking care of emergencies when called upon to do so. The store employees enjoy profit sharing, life and hospitalization insurance. The prescription department of the local store which is competently manned is stocked with pharmaceuticals from well known houses, such as Squibb, Parke-Davis, Eli Lilly and many others.

L. R. Berkheimer, secretary and treasurer of the Eckerd chain, along with local store manager Lewis, announces a long list of items at prices that make them exceptional values during this great store-wide fiftieth anniversary sale. Announcement of the many values can be found elsewhere in today's News.

Miss Scherger Is Heard By Kiwanis

Early History Of State Is Related By Teacher At Luncheon Meeting

STATE PASSED UP BY COLONIZERS

Kiwanians gained a new insight into the early history of Pennsylvania, through the splendid talk given them by Miss Mary J. Scherger, instructor of history at Ben Franklin Junior high school, at their noon luncheon meeting in The Castleton, Wednesday. The address was a feature of Pennsylvania Week.

Pennsylvania has always been a melting pot, Miss Scherger stated. It was settled by people from many European countries, all seeking religious and political freedom, upon which precept the state was founded.

Evidence has been found that many early colonizers passed up Pennsylvania in favor of other locations. John Smith early in the 17th century came up the Susquehanna; in 1615, Champlain came down from Canada; in 1614 the Dutch established a temporary trading post on Delaware Bay. The first settlers, she stated, were the Swedes sent here by King Gustavus Adolphus who settled New Sweden at Upland.

Penn Had Ideal It was William Penn, however, who had the ideal and also the business acumen to provide the site for a settlement, where people could have religious, political, and economic freedom.

Although founded for the Quakers, the Mennonites came and bought 15,000 acres of ground north of Philadelphia, founding Germantown. There also came the French Huguenots, and the Scotch-Irish, the Amish, the Dunkards, and the Moravians, Miss Scherger stated.

Penn said, "Government seems to me to be a part of religion itself, a thing sacred in its institution and its end." It was this idea which attracted new settlers in ever growing numbers.

The 'great' Conestoga wagons were a Pennsylvania product, she stated. Pennsylvania also had a navy before the colonial government. The rifled guns of our peaceful early settlers, drove the British out of Boston, and Washington was quick to realize the advantage these rifles gave our forces over the smooth bore guns of the British. The peaceful religious settlers, although they would not fight, made these weapons of war, and also furnished the food for our soldiers.

Pennsylvania furnished 14,000 soldiers, her quota in the War of 1812, and built the fleet which won the battle of Lake Erie for Admiral Perry. In the Civil War, Pennsylvania furnished 362,000 soldiers and 14,000 sailors. The Marine Corps originated in Pennsylvania, she pointed out.

In the 1790's, Scotch-Irish and Germans began trickling into the Mahoning and Shenango valleys. Miss Scherger said in ending her talk, pointing out many significant historical facts as they related to this district.

She stated that William Penn died a poor man, having been willing to invest his money in an ideal, which has made the Commonwealth the great state it now is.

Army Sponsors Song Contest

Distinctive Marching Song Sought By Special Services Division

Both amateur and professional composers have been invited to send in entries in the current army song contest being sponsored by the Special Services Division of the Department of the Army.

Lt. Col. C. P. Kitchen, special services officer of the Second Army states that many inquiries have been received about the form and sentiment of the song that is needed, but nobody can tell what type of composition is likely to win out. He stated that our country is still comparatively young, and our music is in a transitional stage; nevertheless, since the army has never had a distinctive song, a general theme with an original but sound musical structure will characterize the winning piece. The entries, however, should be in march tempo. Entry blanks can be obtained from the public information office, 205 Old Post Office building, Pittsburgh. Entries must be in the hands of Second Army Headquarters by December 15.

SOME WEDDING PROBLEMS

"I am about to marry and have so many problems. I wondered if you would entangle them for me. The wedding must be simple and inexpensive but a church ceremony, nonetheless. I am thirty-two and consequently will not dress in bridal white. What else, then, do you suggest? Must I wear gloves and a hat? My parents live in a town fifty miles from where I live and teach school. Who should announce my engagement? How many attendants may I have? What kind of invitations might I send to out-of-town friends? To whom should announcements be sent?"

Answer: Even though you are thirty-two, you may dress in bridal white if you wish. While the traditional attire is more appropriate for the youthful bride, there is no particular age limit. It is correctly worn by any bride at her first wedding. If you feel too mature to dress thus, why not wear a full-length pastel dress with matching hat. Gloves are optional but a hat or floral head arrangement is a "must". The groom may preferably wear formal morning clothes at a wedding up to 6 p. m. and dinner clothes (tuxedo if you will wear dinner clothes after 6 p. m. At this type of wedding, you must not exceed two attendants—a maid-of-honor and a best man—no bridesmaids—ushers only if the size of the church and the number of guests require them. You may have your wedding at any time of day suitable to you and your pastor.

Even though your parents live out-of-town, they should announce your engagement, issue invitations and announcements. You may send the usual ceremony and reception invitations or those to the ceremony only to out-of-town friends. Or if you prefer, send them announcements only. Announcements incidentally, should be sent only to those who did not receive invitations.

REDECORATION

Now is the time of year when you will be redecorating and painting and replenishing your lamp shades; as well as dressing up your windows in their fall and winter raiment. Perhaps the dry cleaner will make so good a job of your living room rug that it will do for another season. But in case you must replace it, purchase the new one before you choose any of the other items of decoration. Place your new rug on the floor and then give the room a thorough inspection to ascertain just what else is needed in the way of curtains, draperies and other accessories and choose these to harmonize with your floor covering. If your rug is multi-colored, your lamp shades, draperies and curtains should be of a solid color that the effect will not be too jumbled and confused. If your rug is of a plain color, figured accessories will set it off to advantage. Before you start your painting, be sure that you scrub and sandpaper your woodwork so that it will have a new rather than a made-over appearance. Whenever possible, change your furniture around and start the season with a fresh outlook. Don't let your house get into a rut. Changes are good for all of us.

Board Of Directors Formulates Plans To Maintain Blood Reserve For County

Tentative plans for a Red Cross blood bank was the main discussion topic at the quarterly meeting of the board of directors, Lawrence County Chapter, American Red Cross.

Chairman S. Glenn McCracken presided at the meeting Tuesday evening at the chapter house. Dr. Wilbur Fienney, chairman of the Red Cross blood program, and Dr. William E. Goodpastor of the Jameson Hospital staff led the discussion.

Formulated plans call for co-operation with the Lawrence County Medical Society to establish a central base at the Jameson Memorial hospital for maintaining a blood reserve.

Mrs. Irving Mansell, chairman of the Westminster college unit, reported on the Red Cross National convention which she attended in San Francisco last June.

Mrs. Blake Waldo, chairman of the motor corps, announced that her group had spent more than 400 volunteer hours in transportation this summer. Transporting Deahon Annex veterans to Pittsburgh ball games and carrying children to dental and hard-of-hearing clinics consumed most of this volunteer service.

Elmer Gerlach reported that his first aid services committee had donated more than 700 hours at picnics, parades and celebrations during the past season.

Chairman McCracken appointed Alvan Shenkan, Alex McCready and Walter Kiehl as a committee to study the chapter by laws and make recommendations for revision.

Analysis of the chapter budget and an outline of next year's needs were discussed before the meeting adjourned.

Industrial Activity In State At Pinnacle

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Sept. 30.—(INS)—Pennsylvania industrial activity today was depicted as at a pinnacle by Pennsylvania State College.

"It is doubtful if the state will ever enjoy much better all-round prosperity than it is having at the present time," the bureau of business research asserted in its monthly report.

Increase Shown
Industrial activity in the commonwealth for the initial eight months of this year averaged six per cent above that for the same period of 1947, the bureau said.

The index for August revealed peacetime records for the month in industrial power sales and steel production.

"Both building contracts and operations were the highest for any recent year," the bureau reported. "For the first time in 1948, carloadings in the Allegheny district showed no loss from a year ago."

NAACP Meeting Is Held In Ellwood

Interesting Program Is Presented At Trinity A.M.E. Church By Group

With the monthly mass meeting of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, New Castle Branch, held in Ellwood City for the benefit of the members in that district, a splendid meeting took place. The session was in the Trinity A. M. E. church of that city.

Thomas C. Farrow, the president, was in the chair, and an interesting program was presented. Outstanding features included musical selections by Miss Alice Gillespie, who attends Harvard university; and vocal numbers by William Nelson, accompanied by Miss Gillespie; and solo numbers by Mrs. Otha Jackson and Israel Galtner.

Miss Olga Wilson gave a talk on labor and industry, particularly as it affects Negroes in New Castle and vicinity. In her talk, she urged that the youth of today prepare itself for the opportunities which may be presented tomorrow. An appeal for membership was given by R. T. Mitchell.

Dr. James A. Gillespie, a member of the state executive board, explained why the state conference needs more support from the local branches. A committee consisting of William Eady and Mr. Mooney was named for labor and industry in Ellwood City.

Fantastic Rumor Hitler Alive Again Revived

By JAMES PADGETT
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 30.—The fantastic and recurrent rumor that Adolf Hitler still is alive and plotting world conquest was revived in Los Angeles today by former U. S. Army Air Force Maj. Al Seidentop.

He is convinced he has evidence to back up a theory that Hitler flew from ruined Berlin to a secret rendezvous with a long-range Nazi submarine.

He feels equally sure that Hitler is living at some remote hideaway, possibly on a "friendly shore."

Seidentop bases his story on experiences dating back to the time when he was assigned to duty in the Persian Gulf region.

He said he heard of the arrival and crash-landing of Hitler's alleged mystery plane and the coincidental presence of a huge German submarine of a type used by the Nazi navy on long-range missions.

The reports of the mystery plane the submarine off the Arabian coast and a frantic air, sea and ground search waged by four nations are said by Seidentop to be a matter of record in London and Washington.

Story on Episode

Seidentop's story is this: In the spring of 1945 he was flying for the North African Division of the Air Transport Command which covered the run from French Morocco to India.

It was off Abadan, where the Tigris and Euphrates river empty into the Persian Gulf, that Seidentop and his co-pilot, former Lieut. Jack Winslow, saw the submarine.

It was dawn and they were at a 5,000-foot altitude. Exact latitude and longitude of the craft were relayed to the American Command at Abadan.

Seidentop's plane was rapidly running out of fuel and he could not wait for American bombers which followed but never spotted the sub.

Downed Plane

Seidentop was transferred later to Abadan as base chief pilot. He visioned and refueled by German hiding out in the mountains.

Seidentop said he believes that Hitler and his submarine proceeded to "some friendly shore" where he has exchanged scientific war-time secrets for his own sanctuary.

Seidentop said: "Hitler was madman enough not willingly to give up his fantastic dreams of world conquest."

BRINGS LUCK

ALBANY, Tex.—Oil men figure the number 3 was good luck in Roesser & Pendleton, Inc., No. 33, which gave up 300 barrels on a flow test in 24 hours. The flow was from sand at 1333 feet, located on a 330-foot well spacing pattern. It is 330 feet from the east and south lines of northeast quarter of Section No. 90 (a multiple of 3).

Police In Seoul Apprehend Four

SEOUL, Sept. 30.—(INS)—Police in Seoul arrested four Koreans today in connection with a Communist underground group believed to be smuggling U. S. Army jeeps over the 38th parallel for use by the Soviet-organized North Korean army.

An official said at least four jeeps have been delivered across the occupation border recently after they had been stolen from the U. S. Army.

Total Number Unknown

The total number of jeeps which have been thus delivered to Russian-occupied North Korea is not known, although more than 150 of the vehicles are missing from the American army in Seoul.

The four Koreans were apprehended while operating a machine shop.

In the shop, investigators said they found a stolen American Army truck and several jeep motors, together with stencils of the red star emblem of the North Korean army.

"NATIONAL EMPLOY THE PHYSICALLY HANDICAPPED WEEK" October 3 to 9

Not Long Ago This Boy Did a MAN'S JOB

Today This Boy Needs a MAN'S JOB

Before you, Mr. Employer, is a man who fought on the beachheads of Tarawa or Anzio, who flew over bomb-gutted Tokyo or fought in the Coral Sea. He is one of hundreds of thousands who marched in the Purple Heart Parade. Today, he is an American looking for a job. Behind him are the hardships and dangers of war, the weary months in the hospital, and the long days of training for employment. Ahead of him is a future that is in your hands. What you do with his future is important to him, and to you!

It's just good business to weigh skills, experience, and physical capacity against the requirements of the specific job. It is the job of the Veterans Employment Service, co-operating with the local offices of the State Employment Service, to be of assistance to employers and to disabled veterans looking for a job. If we can be of help during National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week, OR ANY OTHER TIME, please call on us.

- As an employer, give the disabled veteran a chance to prove himself a valuable employee. Place him in the right job, the job which utilizes his nonhandicapped facilities to the fullest extent.
- As a taxpayer, see to it that the important appropriations for the Veterans Administration which provides vital services, such as rehabilitation, for disabled veterans, is safeguarded and its continuance assured.
- As a good friend, suggest to disabled veterans of your acquaintance that they become active in the local chapter of the Perry S. Gaston Post American Legion.
- As a voter, support all local, state and federal legislation designed to protect the future of 4 million disabled veterans by giving them proper disability compensation, adequate medical care, and vocational training.

C. D. Of A. Officer Addresses Court

Miss Frances Maher, Of Kane, Pa., National Officer Has Parliamentary Session

Addressing one of the pioneer C. D. of A. courts in this section—Court Teresa Irene No. 231, Miss Frances Maher, state grand regent and supreme vice regent, placed emphasis on court's motto of Charity.

"We are organized for a very holy and lofty purpose," Miss Maher, of Kane, Pa., said as she spoke to a group of over 65 Catholic Daughters of America Wednesday evening at The Castleton. "We as women are the center of the home. We set examples and become a part of a great wheel in Catholic action. Women of today must fight the battle of life, and with the fineness, dignity and the greatness of our faith, we can follow in the pattern of the virtues of Mary. Work in the spirit of unity—have above all charity in our hearts, and we can not but succeed."

A parliamentary procedure program took place, and Miss Maher explained the various duties of the officers of the court. New rules were discussed and obsolete rules mentioned. At the close, questions were asked and important matters outlined.

Grand Regent Presides
Grand Regent Mrs. Jessie Stenger presided, and extended a welcome. Miss Maher opened with prayer, followed by the flag salute and court hymn.

Mrs. Sarah Beatrice of Ellwood City, district deputy, brought greetings to the court and extended hope for a continued success. The past grand regents were then introduced.

Plead Not Guilty To Narcotics Charge

Appearing in Los Angeles Superior court, to answer to narcotics charges, Actress Lila Leeds (left) and dancer Vicki Evans both plead not guilty. Miss Evans, along with Robert Mitchum and Robin Ford, asked to have charges dropped because of obscure wording and Miss Evans claimed insufficient evidence. Trial was set for Nov. 22.

made brief remarks, reiterating emphasis on being charitable. She announced that at the next meeting on Monday, October 11, plans will get under way to again start the once well-enjoyed C. D. of A. dances which terminated with the coming of the last war. These will be started again, and young people of the court are to have charge of arrangements.

Miss Maher and Mrs. Beatrice were presented with gifts as remembrances from the court. The closing prayer was given and "Mother Dearest" sung, led by Mrs. Mable Mastrangelo accompanied by Mrs. Frances Colao, pianist.

A brief musical program was presented and Mrs. Mable Mastrangelo sang, "Ave Maria," group singing followed later.

A late buffet supper was served on a table nicely appointed for the occasion. Members of a committee, in charge were in the receiving line and aided.

Eggs And Tomatoes Thrown At Wallace At Houston, Texas

First Incident Of Kind On Second Invasion Of Southern States

HOUSTON, Tex., Sept. 30. — (INS)—Henry Wallace continued stumping Texas today in his fight for the presidency after being hit by a tomato and egg barrage at Houston.

The renewed outbreak of food pelting was the first incident since the Progressive party nominee began his second invasion of the south.

Police said that John Staskiel, 30-year-old national maritime union member from Kulpmont, Pa., admitted tossing the missiles. Staskiel said he had been shipping out of Houston for 14 years.

They quoted him as saying he had thrown four eggs and a tomato because "Wallace is in contact with Ferdinand Smith, one of the leading Communists." (Smith, national secretary of the CIO-National Maritime Union until his ouster last June in a purge of left-wingers, is currently under deportation orders. He is an alien and a native of the British West Indies.) Authorities reported three Houston boys also had admitted throwing five tomatoes at Wallace as he prepared to deliver his address before a third party rally in the city auditorium. Wallace remarked after brushing an egg off his coat: "I have spoken on other occasions like this in the south and I'm still happy to be here." Police rescued Staskiel from the angry crowd that swarmed over him after the egg incident. One person threw a crutch at him and others tried to hit him in the face.

School Students Plan To Observe Industrial Safety

HARRISBURG, Sept. 30.—(INS)—Nearly 80,000 Pennsylvania high school students will be given an opportunity to observe safety practices in industry during the current observance of Pennsylvania Week.

The Department of Labor and Industry will sponsor tours under the guidance of state inspectors to give the students practical demonstrations "of the manner in which the safety of the state's industrial workers is conserved."

Will Study Results

Selected by school authorities in the state, seven inspection districts, the students will be given certificates commissioning them as "deputy scholastic safety directors" following the tours. Where possible participating students will address their schoolmates and outline practices used by the commonwealth in the promotion of industrial safety.

"Many thousands of parents and relatives of high school students are employed in Pennsylvania industry and still more thousands of students, on graduation, will take their places in production," the department said. "Therefore it is fitting that these students see for themselves what their commonwealth is doing in the way of providing safeguards for its army of workers."

Hirohito Plans News Conference

TOKYO, Sept. 30.—(INS)—Emperor Hirohito announced today he will hold a news conference next Tuesday—the first ever conducted by a Japanese ruler.

The emperor will receive newsmen at a downtown department store in Tokyo. The event will be a highlight of Japan's national newspaper week. No "political" questions will be allowed.

London—In a thousand years the only animals known to have become extinct in highly industrialized England are the wolf, beaver, wild boar, brown bear and the reindeer.

WHY DON'T THEY GO TO RUSSIA?

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 30.—(INS)—Pennsylvania Insurance Commissioner James F. Malone, Jr., said Wednesday "If the Communists like Russia so well, then they should go there."

Speaking before a session of the 62nd convention of the National Fraternal Congress in Pittsburgh, the Republican leader declared: "Communism is not rampant in America, is not rampant in America, but the Red menace does exist. They have wormed their way into government positions. There is no excuse for having them in our government."

The insurance commissioner went on to say that America wants to "live in peace but the Communists have but one purpose—to overthrow our form of government and replace it with Communism. They are worming their way into labor unions and are attempting to do the same in life insurance groups." Malone also urged the Fraternals to keep politics out of their newspapers and to see that Communists didn't hold any office.

More than 600 delegates, representing 114 Fraternal Life Insurance Societies, are attending for the convention.

Motion Picture Reunites Brother

KUMAMOTO, Japan, Sept. 30.—(INS)—A motion picture was instrumental in reuniting two brothers orphaned by the atomic bomb explosion on Hiroshima, August 6, 1945.

Toshiko Mihara, now 15, and his brother Hironori, 13, were separated soon after they had lost their mother, their only living parent, when Hiroshima was razed.

When the motion picture "The children of the bee hive" was shown at an asylum recently, Toshiko recognized his younger brother appearing in it. He contacted the film's producer, and the younger brother was found.

Idle Indians Could Gain Ground Today In Flag Fight

Boston And New York Defeats Would Help

By LAWTON CARVER
(International News Service Staff Editor)

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—The Cleveland Indians are so close to the American league pennant today that, by straining their ears a little, they can hear it flapping in the breeze that blow in from Lake Erie.

All they need to clinch at least a tie for their first flag since Tris Speaker led the home forces to the promised land in 1920 is to win one of their three remaining games.

Feller Wins 19th

Bob Feller, the great comeback guy when the Indians needed him in the last gasp of the race, won his seventh straight and his 19th of the year by 5 to 2 over Chicago yesterday to all but clinch it.

Boston and New York also won after suffering virtual knockout defeats on Tuesday, and by this time cling to the merest flicker of hope.

The Red Sox 5 to 1 victory over Washington and the Yanks' 4 to 2 edge on Philadelphia seemingly served only to prolong the agony.

Indians Need Two

While the Indians idled today, Boston was to finish its Washington series with Mel Parnell against Early Wynn and the Yanks were to wind it up with the A's by sending Ed Lopat against Lou Brissie.

Then the Red Sox and Yanks will be idled on Friday and will tangle Saturday and Sunday with each other.

That means one must be eliminated definitely while the Indians are completing their concluding series with Detroit.

It adds up to the fact that the Indians must get a tie with one win and must take the pennant with two wins.

Up To Pitchers

The Tigers, using Virgil Trucks or Dixie Trout on the mound in the first game, then Fred Hutchinson and Hal Newhouse in the next two must be lucky enough, game enough and tough enough to beat Bob Lemon, Gene Bearden and Bob Feller.

While Feller was winning a 10-hitter over the White Sox yesterday, Ellis Kinder gave up 11 hits in winning for Boston over Washington and Bob Porterfield scored his fifth win for the Yanks in beating the A's. However, the rookie needed help in the ninth and both Joe Page and Allie Reynolds were called upon to retire the side. Reynolds served up a double play ball to end it with the bases loaded.

Hal Newhouse became a 20-game winner for the fourth time when he won for Detroit by 4 to 0 over St. Louis.

JEFF HEATH

BROOKLYN — The Boston Braves, pennant winners in the National League this year, received a severe jolt yesterday, as Jeff Heath shown above, 32-year old outfielder, suffered a break in his ankle bone, and a dislocation, sliding into home plate, as the Boston Braves defeated the Dodgers 3 to 2.

Heath is definitely out of the coming World Series. He formerly played with Cleveland and St. Louis. Heath has a 1948 batting average of .330 and has slugged 20 homers.

'Scotties' Fear Bessemer Power

Union Practices Offense For Cementer Invasion, Grell And Pilshaw Injured

Coach Charles James really had the crying towel out last night, as his Union High griders were preparing to meet the invasion of the Bessemer "Cementers" Friday night. Lou Grell, starting right halfback, and a real backfield sparkplug, has a severely wrenched knee.

The injury, received in the Geo. Junior Republic victory two weeks ago, has not responded to treatment. Pilshaw, an ace wingman, injured in the Hopewell game, is another Scottie regular who will probably not be able to play against the undefeated juggernaut from Bessemer. The coach feels that if his boys are to upset their Class B rivals they must be at full strength.

Fine Attitude

Encouraging signs, on the other hand, could be detected in the boys' attitude as they ran through plays at the Scotland Lane Field. The boys "let down" in the 21 to 0 defeat at Evans City last week but now the slogan is "Beat Bessemer" and if the Scotties are up—well, anything can happen in this long-standing cross country rivalry.

Union is offensive minded this week. The James aggregation is spending long afternoons polishing their "T" formation attack. Having been held scoreless at Evans City, Union is anxious to plant the piskin in pay dirt again. Glenn Hendrick's running and the show around play of Tony Conti should from way out or on a steady drive.

Kickoff time is 8:00 p. m., at the Union High field. The "Scotties" know that after the first whistle, season records and past performances are merely entries in a book. Brains, ability and touchdowns will determine the winner of this contest, and Union plans to be there first with the most.

Ellwood In Good Shape For Westinghouse Battle, Both Teams Seek Second Win

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 30.—Westinghouse, last year's Pittsburgh city champs, furnish the opposition Friday night when the Ellwood City Wolverines attempt to get back on the victory train, on their home field, at 8 p. m.

Westinghouse comes to Ellwood sporting a 26 to 7 win over North Braddock and a one point, 14-13 loss to Altoona.

Ellwood has a like record. The Wolverines topped Erie Tech 14 to 7 in their opener and last Friday lost to the Rochester Rams 13 to 7.

Good Condition

Ellwood's comeback of the thrilling contest with the Erie Tech, physical shape and all of them should be ready to go in the first meeting of the two schools. Jake Tesone, who missed the Rochester game due to a hip injury, has recovered, and will see plenty of action against the Pittsburgh invaders.

One of the largest crowds in Ellwood history saw the Rochester game last week and another overflow throng is expected to jam Lincoln Field on Friday evening.

WABASH BEARS WORKING HARD

Bears Have First Game Carded Sunday With Youngstown At Union High Field

Willie Domenick, president of the Wabash Bears, has called for a practice every night this week at 5 o'clock at the P. & L. E. field. The Bears will open their 1948 semi-pro season on Sunday at 3 o'clock by meeting the powerful Youngstown Merchants at Union High field.

Coaches Tomasiello, DeCaprio and Piccuta are giving the Bears lots of pointers this week. They hope to have a strong attack ready for Youngstown. It should be a humdinger of a game and a large crowd is expected to see the contest Sunday.

The Bears will be a much better club than last year, it was indicated. The material is stronger.

American League Pennant Picture

(By International News Service)

All American league contenders—Cleveland, New York, and Boston—won yesterday, but the league-leading Indians nevertheless reduced the pennant "magic number" to two.

Any combination of Indian victories or Boston-New York defeats which totals two will give Cleveland its first pennant since 1920.

All contenders have three games left to play.

The standings:

New York—Today, at Philadelphia; Friday, idle; Saturday and Sunday—single games with the Red Sox at Boston.

KID DYNAMITA

CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—A 22-year-old welterweight prizefighter from the Dominican Republic died today after being knocked out in the Chicago stadium.

The victim, the year's second in the same ring, was Felix Antonio Gomez of New York City and Santo Domingo. He fought professionally as Kid Dynamita.

The West Indian was felled in the eighth round of a scheduled 10-round bout by Bobby McQuiller of Port Huron, Mich.

He died less than five hours later in Cook County hospital, where physicians worked feverishly to save his life.

Dr. John J. Drumm, Illinois Athletic Commission surgeon, said he believed Dynamita suffered a brain injury from the punishing double-barreled attack of his lighter opponent.

An official verdict was withheld pending an inquest.

NEW WILMINGTON, Sept. 30.—There is every reason to believe that football fans who witness the Westminster-Juniata game here Saturday afternoon will see wide-open football. Reports from Juniata are to the effect that the team is a passing one. The Titans plan to try a few themselves.

When interviewed yesterday, Coach Melvin Hetzler of Westminster did not hesitate to predict that forward passing will be the chief weapon of both clubs. Pass defense was stressed the first part of the week with the offensive passing game to be polished up today and Friday.

Two-Team System

Hetzler has indicated in practice that he is sold on the two-team system of play. He will not name his starting lineup for Saturday's game until he learns whether the team will be on offense or defense for the opening kickoff.

Saturday's game will be the first opportunity the Titans have had to show their new "T" formation on the home field. A modified version of the single wing was used last year. Hetzler was pleased by the way Champ Barthelme of Erie and Jack Dyson, New Brighton, quarterbacks, key figures in the "T," handled themselves.

The kickoff will take place at 2.

Boudreau And Harris Must Win Or Hunt For New Jobs

By LAWTON CARVER
(International News Service Sports Editor)
NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—There is many a heartache in this American league pennant race especially among the Cleveland Indians, the New York Yankees and Boston Red Sox.

There are heartaches and headaches based on the old jungle law of sports which says that it isn't important how a team wins—so long as it does win.

Bill Veeck, head of the Cleveland Indians, steadfastly has been trying to get rid of Lou Boudreau and probably will if the Indians blow the pennant.

Joe McCarthy seems to be safe with the Boston Red Sox, although he has less argument in his own behalf than either Boudreau or Harris. At least Joe has a contract running through 1949.

Boudreau has played his usual spectacular game at shortstop for the Indians this season and has been the leader of the runner up to Ted Williams all the way in the batting championship race.

Moreover, he has made a solid pitcher out of Bob Lemon and has managed to get Bob Feller into the mood to pitch after the latter's early season lapses.

On top of that he has directed his team in a manner to be, at the moment—almost the last moment—on top in the run toward the world series with the Boston Braves.

He should be a candidate for special plaudits, but reportedly is in an extremely weak position as Veeck surveys the situation.

Harris won the pennant last year and was expected to repeat with his worn out ball club. He has come so close that now he and the Red Sox are fighting the Indians, but his ultimate finish may not be good enough—unless he wins.

As mentioned, they don't ask how you won or why you lost in baseball. All they want to know is did you win.

Harris has been plagued by injuries, most notably the several which have made a walking hospital case out of Joe DiMaggio. He lost his catcher yesterday when a diagnosis revealed that Gus Niarhos suffered broken bones in his hand Sunday and is out until next season.

Harris didn't get the expected pitching from his sizzling relief man of last year, Joe Page, and Charley Keller was out for a time. They had to bench George McQuinn because of his lack of hitting and bring in Tommy Henrich from the outfield to play first base.

Meanwhile, up at Boston, Joe McCarthy's Red Sox got off to a slow start despite all that talent bought by the club from the St. Louis Browns since last year. The Red Sox finally got going, but have had a struggle of it all the way and by now they, like the Yankees, are underdogs.

McCarthy had his headaches, too, but it seems likely that he will enjoy the balm that goes with retaining a job. Boudreau and Harris will be lucky to hang on—if they fail to win.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

LOCAL dog fanciers are interested in the announcement that the Grand National Grouse Dog championship and the Grouse Dog Futurity will open Friday, November 12, over the course of the federal refuge, near Marienville, Forrest County. On that day, Grouse dogs will be present from Maine to Wisconsin. A Grouse hunter will appreciate the artful manner and class in handling these nationally-bred champions by their masters. At times, the trials become very tense as the dog obeys the "whistle command" or "call" of his handler. Usually, one false move or just one slip-up, might deprive a dog of the championship. Officials judge points not only on form, style and class but, also, the dog must demonstrate remarkable ability to find, point and handle ruffed Grouse, and unless the dog does, the rules prevent any forthcoming crown. Among the better known dog fanciers who will have entries in the events is Joe Williams of Orchard Way, in the Futurity, he has entered Mac's Gold Nugget and Rusty McCracken. In the national championship he has entered Duddy Mac and McKink. . . . End Coach Earle Edwards is quick on the trigger. For instance, when Penn State played a practice game recently, according to Hugh Fullerton, Jr., Larry Joe, a speedy, but thumb-fingered halfback, dropped the football, which wasn't the first time. It so happened he fumbled near where his wife and baby were seated. "Listen, Larry," chirped the coach, "if I were your wife I wouldn't even let you handle the baby." . . . Harvey Graff, 16, Denver Manual high school athlete, died from a fractured neck, suffered in a high school practice scrimmage. . . . Greenville Sportsmen's club will release 135 pheasants Sunday. . . . Ten Pennsylvanians play for Notre Dame. They are: Leon Hart, Furtile; Steve Gracho, Lansford, Augie Cifelli, Philadelphia; Ed Hudak, Bethlehem; Jim Mahoney, Erie; John Jeffers, Phoenixville; Phil Yancovich, Conemaugh; Alex Lesko, Homestead; Frank Palmisano, Vandergrift, and Jim Spaniel, Philadelphia, thus Pennsylvania will have a big share in whatever success Notre Dame has this season.

A study of the weights of fish caught in Fymatung dam this summer shows that a comparatively small Carp was caught for the number of big ones in the dam. Around the Spillway are Carp that are as long and as thick as a man's leg, yet the largest catch reported was six pounds and four ounces. A prize small-mouth Bass, weighing five pounds and one ounce was taken, which was only three ounces less than the biggest large-mouth Bass caught. The prize walleye weighed 12 pounds, eight ounces. . . . One of the largest Catfish caught in this district recently was taken by Fred J. Shuster, New Wilmington township, from a Bessemer pond. It was said to weigh 19 pounds. According to a report, a load of fish was dumped in the wrong pond at Bessemer. . . . Adolf Lang has returned home from a several months stay at Delta, Ont. He had considerable luck fishing in Beverly Lake, Four Mile Creek and other waters. . . . One of those keyed to a high pitch because of the coming quartet song festival in the Cathedral, October 16, is Sapho Bill Jones. He tossed a neat bouquet to Messrs. Sanford, Biddle, Cubbison and McCullough. . . . Some months ago this column carried yarns concerning the old-timers. The identity of the writer, for a time was unknown. However, later it became known that the writer was the late Joe Graham, newspaperman, who died several months ago in Cleveland. He was a son of the late Mike Graham, a dance man. . . . If the Cleveland Indians win the American circuit flag, box seats for the series of three games will cost $24, and for the same number of reserved seats, $18.75. According to reports, only two seats each game are allowed per patron. . . . Major Floyd Shwalter, editor, a Chicago resident, has been named executive secretary of Better Fishing, Inc., Chicago. . . . Owen Fox, local naturalist, has been engaged to draw a page of wildlife pictures for the Pennsylvania Angler. . . . The next issue of the Angler will have a front page showing Governor James H. Duff and Fish Commissioner Charles A. French shaking hands in the Cathedral at the French testimonial banquet.

Series Opponents Will Find Southworth Tough

By BILL CORUM

(International News Service Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Well, it was a sure thing all along that it would take a Harvard man to do it. Win another National league pennant in Boston, I mean.

True, Billy Southworth graduated with a horsehide instead of a sheepskin. But he's made it pay well, and it is equally true that he was born in Harvard—in Harvard, Neb., on March 9, 1893.

He's quite a fellow, this William Hold Southworth. The record book says that Billy is a great baseball manager. So does his managerial contract. It's the richest contract in the game today and for the longest term, unless you would like to try finding out how much Connie Mack pays Connie Mack and how long he intends to do it.

In spite of his "Harvard background," Southworth was not rowing on the Crimson crew when the "three little steam shovels, dredged the Braves up out of the bottom of the Charles river some five years ago. Billy the Kid was engaged in his present occupation of winning pennants. Only he was doing it in St. Louis for an owner named Sam Breadon.

The "Three Little Steam Shovels," so named because all three are in the construction business in Boston, reading from derrick to derrick, are Louis R. Perini, Guido L. Rugo and Joseph Manny. All these three men knew about the baseball business is that a baseball is round. They also had one of those simple little ideas that, at times, border on genius. "If a man wants to build a building," they argued, "he comes to us or somebody like us. We want to build a pennant winner. Ergo, we'll go to a man who builds pennant winners."

It didn't take much study of the then recent history of the older league to show them that the man they wanted was Southworth. Perini went to Breadon and put his cards on the table.

That was after the 1945 season in which the Braves had finished sixth. In 1946, Billy's first year, they moved up to fourth. Then to third in 1947. And now to the Braves' first pennant in 34 long and weary and low-moaning years. Has Something Plainly the man has something on the ball as a pilot just as he had something on it as a player. He was no super-star with the Pirates, Braves, Giants and Cards as a player. But he was much better than a vacant spot in the outfield.

Billy lacked the "country boy's" tirelessness and something of his relentless drive. Certainly he was a fellow who'd win a lot of games for you, while seldom losing one through his own mistakes. But it was, and is, one of Southworth's physical and tangible qualities as a player and pilot that make him the standout that he happens to be. Less tangible things than his betting averages as a player and his notebooks and minute attention to detail as a manager account for that.

Man Of Calibre
Our feeling is that Billy is a man of calibre and quality because he's done a lot of living, not all of it on the sunny side, and learned to be fair and kindly in doing so. That his defeat, in and out of baseball, have taught him a philosophy of living. Not just the glib phrase that "you can't win 'em all." But a knowledge and acceptance of the fact. So that he is a fellow who stands up.

Yet few men in baseball ever have fought harder to win or, underneath, disliked to lose more. And he is a hard man to best, given a reasonable chance. Which Lou Boudreau will find out if he doesn't already know, and that Joe McCarthy and Bucky Harris do know, I'm sure. No pushover but no squawker when he does get pushed.
